ADJUSTABLE BED

Are you ready to improve your sleep?

Letto adjustable beds offer a myriad of benefits making it the best option for anyone seeking an enhanced sleep experience and improved overall well-being.

Recommended for both side and back sleepers and to any person suffering from chronic back pain, snoring and sleep apnea.

Benefits & Advantages

Heartburn & Acid Reflux

When stomach acid travels back up into the esophagus, it can cause serious discomfort. And that discomfort may worsen when you are lying flat. Resting with an elevated upper body may help control some symptoms associated with acid reflux and heartburn.

Back Pain

Get much-needed relief for your back with a seating position trusted for space travel. Zero-G mimics the neutral posture your body naturally assumes when the pull of gravity is removed. With the extra pressure taken off of your muscles and discs, your sore back can finally relax.

Joint Pain & Arthritis

By adjusting Letto's incline setting with the wireless remote, you can slip in or out of your bed more easily. Letto Sleep+ takes pressure off your aching joints as you gently transition from lying flat to sitting upright. The adjustable legs also let you set your bed to the perfect height for you.

Sore Muscles

Aching muscles are the perfect reason to take advantage of Letto Sleep+ active massage features. Choose from three incremental settings, from gentle hum to active rumble. Both the upper and lower body massage functions can be used at the same time, even on different settings.

Snoring & Sleep Apnea

Depending on the cause of your snoring, elevating your head just a few inches may be enough to assist in re-opening airways to reduce instances of snoring and sleep apnea.

Swelling & Inflammation

Raising your legs above the level of your heart can help minimize lower-body swelling and speed up recovery. Gravity is on your side as blood flow increases away from your sore limbs, supporting overall circulation.

Guaranteed Comfort at Unbeatable Prices

With Letto adjustable beds everything is included.

By including a wide range of features, we aim to provide a comprehensive and efficient solution for all users.
